Prediction Task

- The title is "How to Hook an Audience."
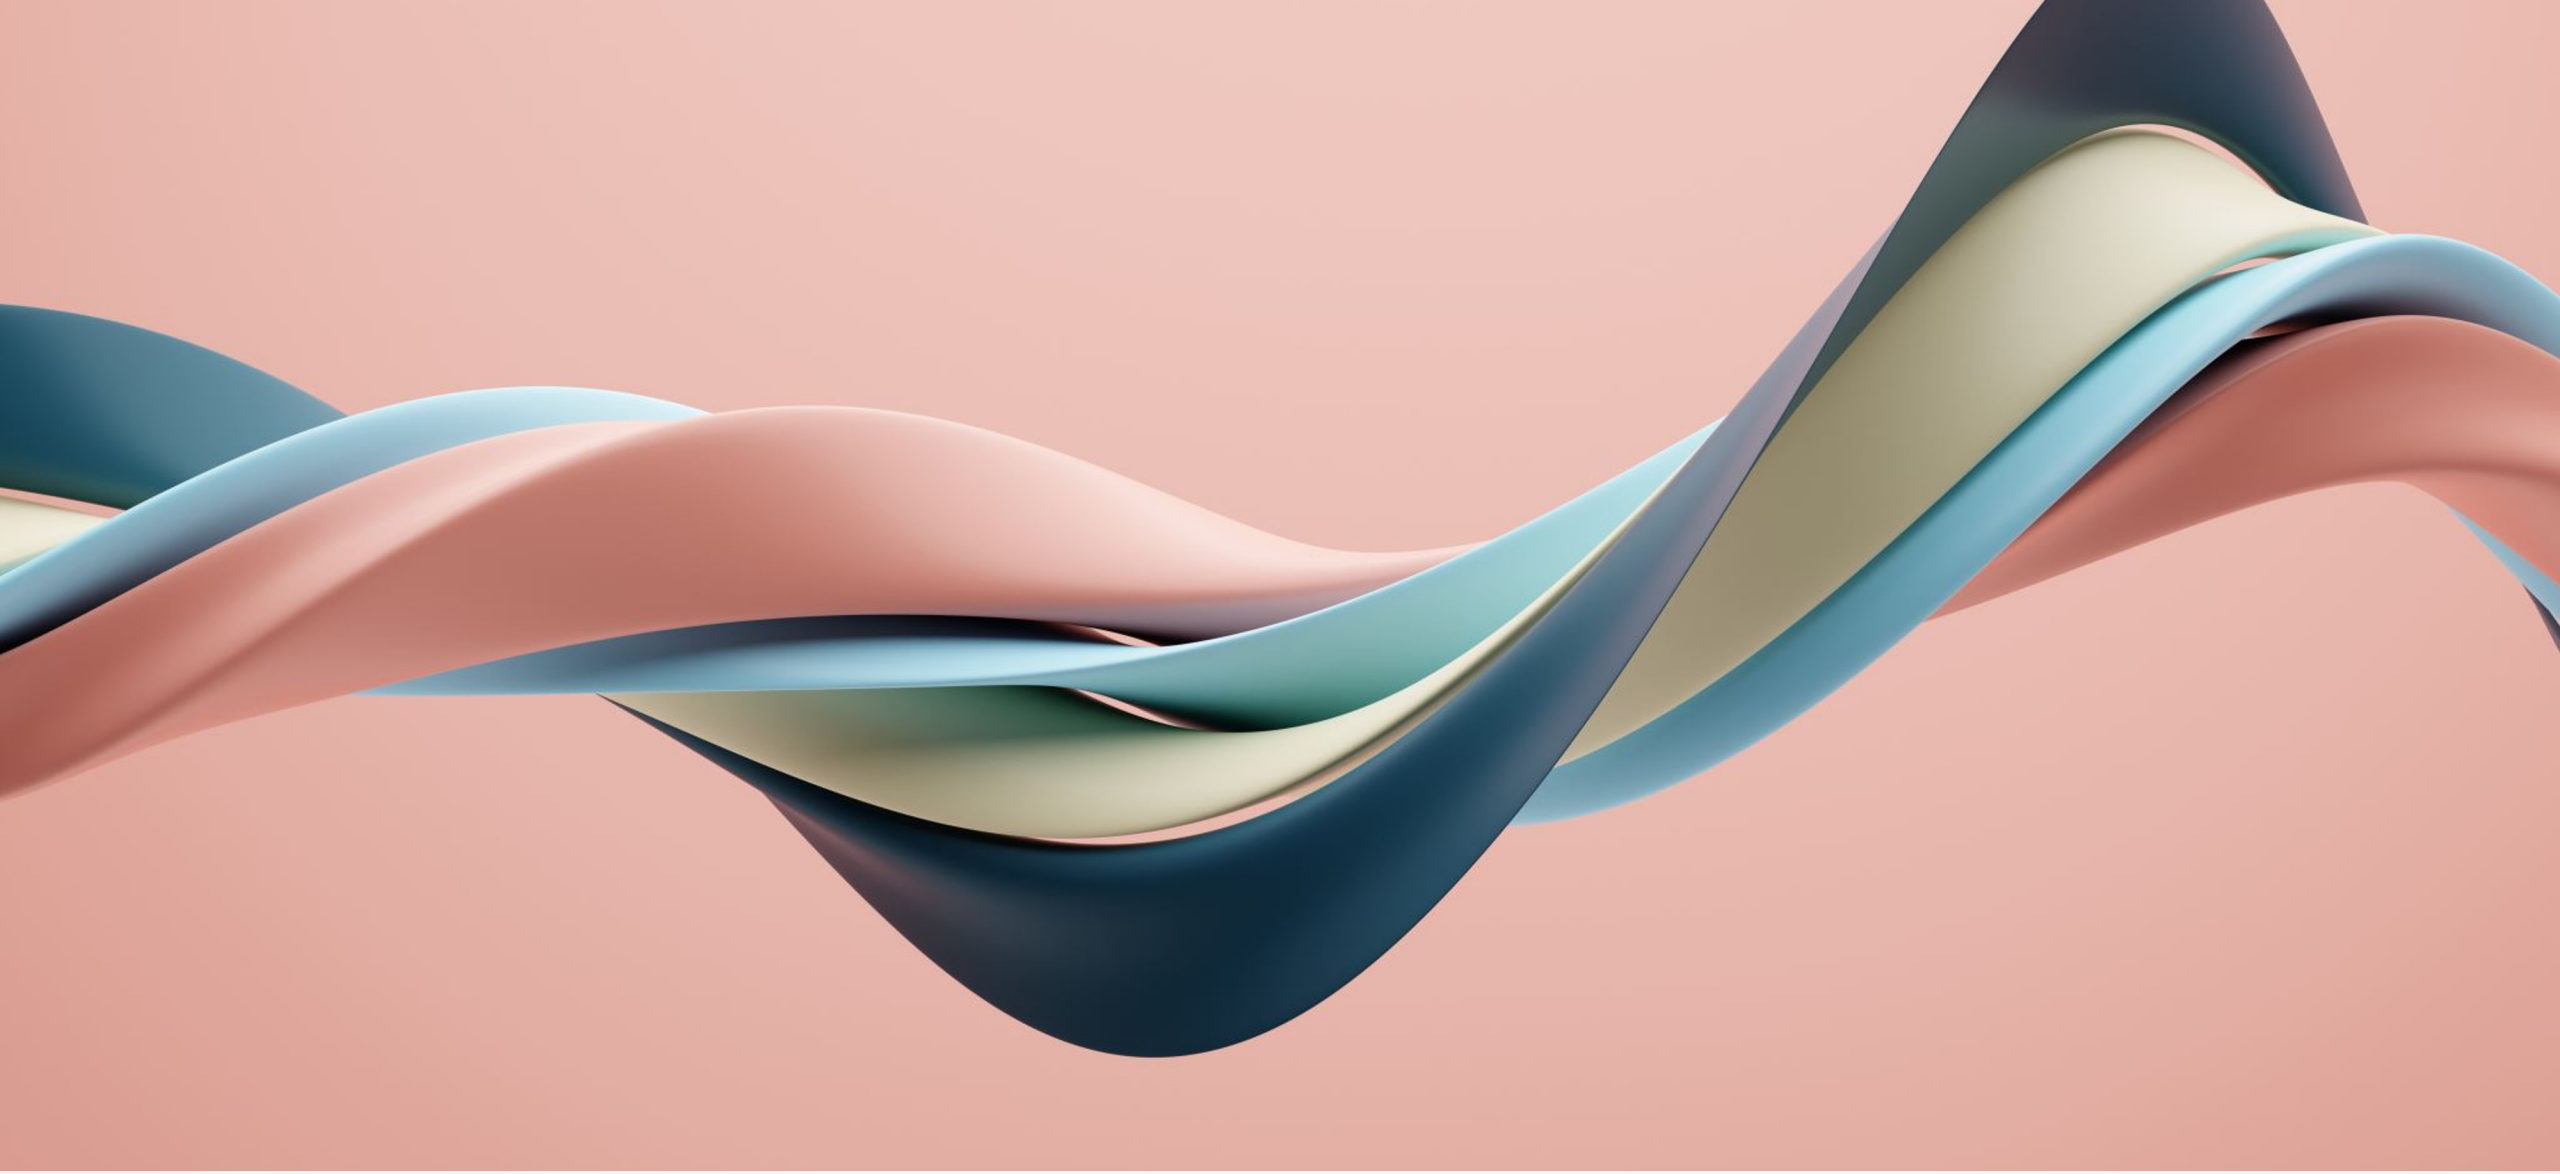
- Write down two ways you think a speaker can "hook" an audience.
- Share with a partner.



How to a hook an audience

Pre-viewing

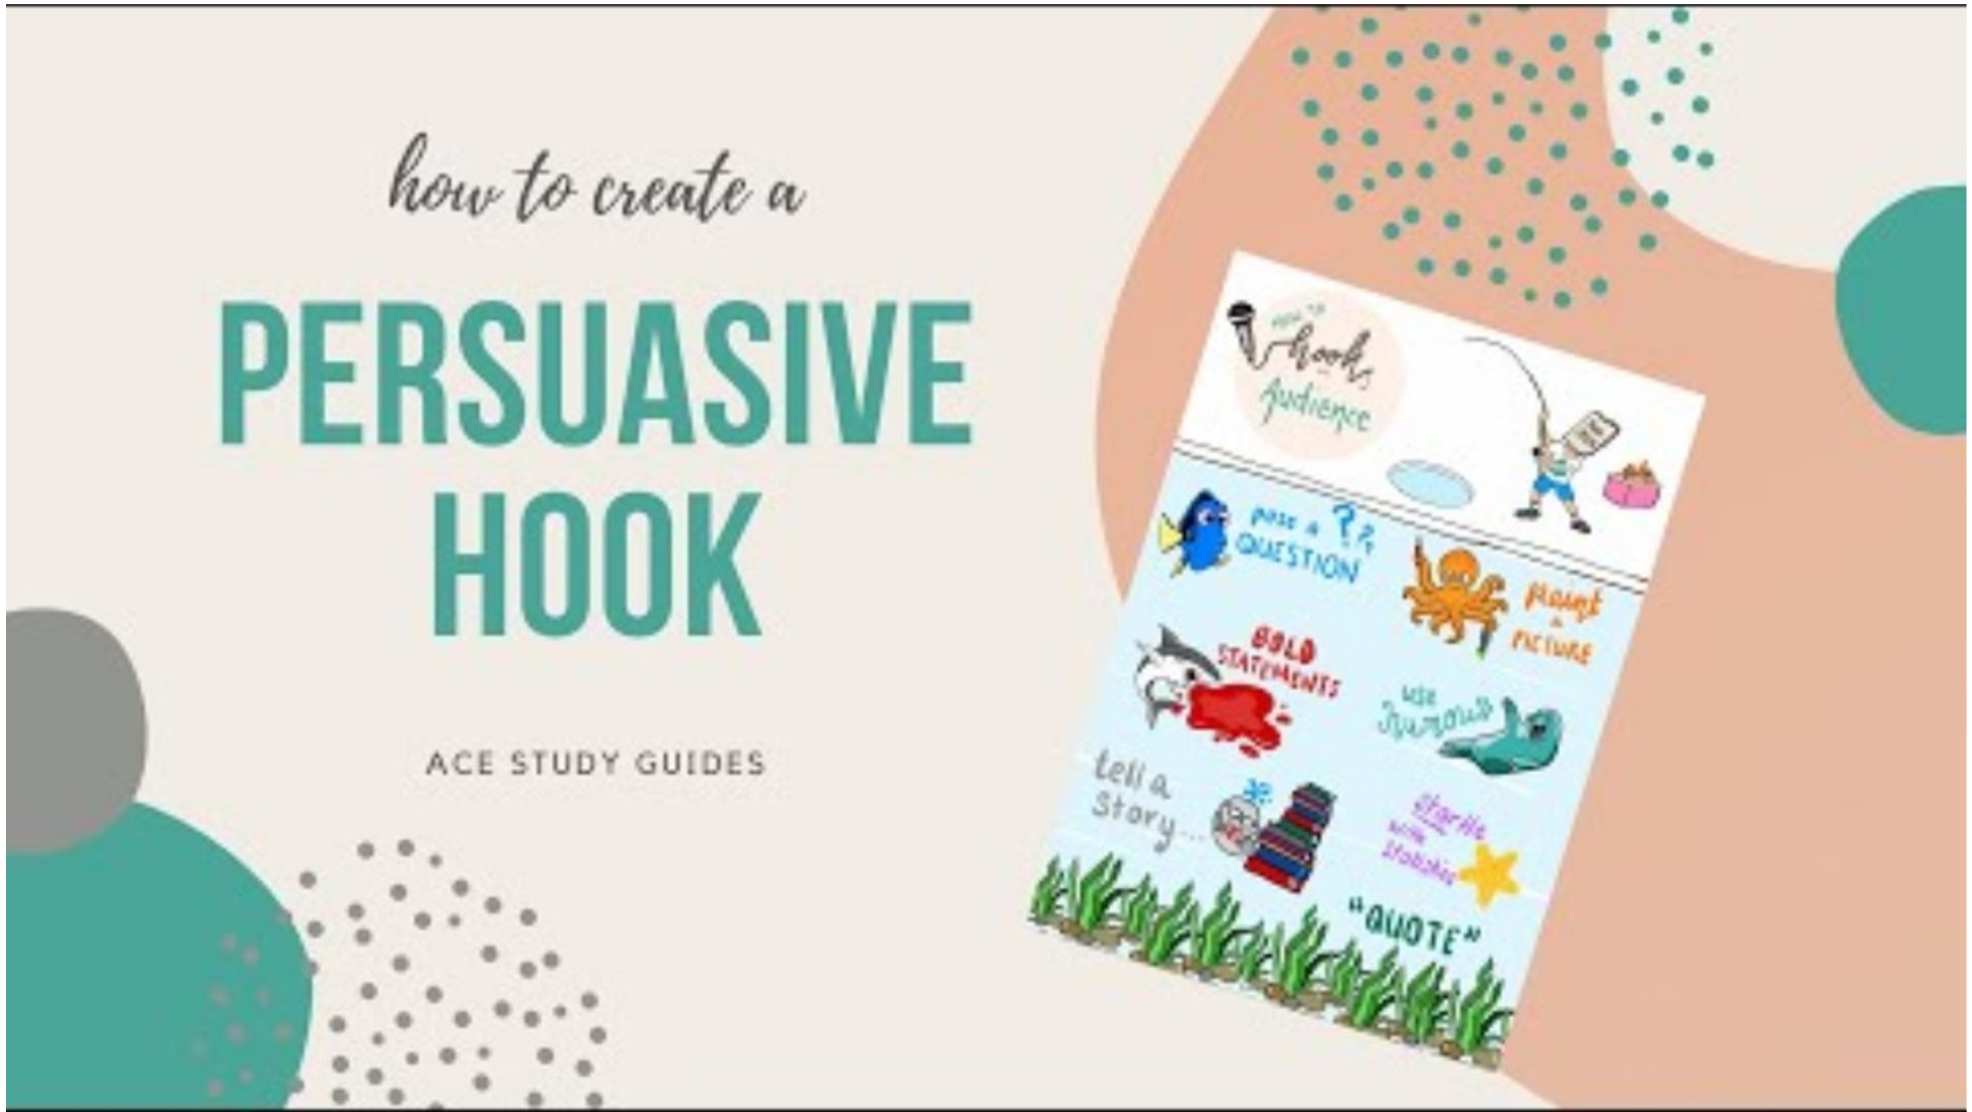
1. Warm-Up Discussion

- Think about a presentation you enjoyed. How did the speaker start?

- Why do you think openings are important in speeches?

Openings are important because they set the tone for the entire speech. A strong opening captures the audience's attention, builds curiosity, and motivates listeners to stay engaged. It also gives the audience a clear idea of the topic and purpose of the presentation. Without a good opening, the audience may lose interest quickly and miss the main message.

Watch the following video https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TxeojFxhV60. Then answer the questions below.



As you watch the video, pay attention to the different hook techniques the speaker introduces. For each technique:

a. Write down the name/description of the hook.
b. Explain its purpose in your own words (Why would a speaker use this technique?).
c. Think of a real-life situation (academic, professional, or social) where you could use this hook.

Hook Technique	Purpose (Why use it?)	Real-life situation to apply it

Answer Key

Hook Technique x	Purpose (Why use it?)	Real-life situation to apply it
Rhetorical Question	Ask a thought-provoking question to grab attention.	“Have you ever wondered why some speeches stay with you forever?”
Statistic/ Fact	Use an unexpected fact or number to shock or interest the audience.	Business pitch: “95% of startups fail within 5 years—ours won’t be one of them.”
Anecdote/ Story	Tell a short story or ask the audience to imagine a scenario.	“Imagine walking into a room where everyone is waiting for your words…”
Quote	Begin with a powerful or relevant quotation.	“As Nelson Mandela once said, ‘Education is the most powerful weapon…’”
Bold /provocative statement	Make a strong, even controversial, claim to spark curiosity.	“Artificial Intelligence will replace half of today’s jobs.”

Post-viewing

1. Pair Work: Compare Notes

- Share your answers with your partner. Did you write down the same hooks?

  _____

- Discuss: Which one would you personally use in your next presentation? Why?

2. Practice Activity: Create Your Own Hook

- Choose one of these topics (or your own):

  Climate change

  Social media and students

  Healthy lifestyle

  A personal passion/hobby

- Write one short hook (2–3 sentences) using a technique from the video.

3. Role-Play / Mini Presentation

- Deliver your hook to your partner (or small group).
- Your partner gives feedback: Was it clear? Attention-grabbing? Relevant?
